My motivation didn't change to last year:

I stand a little bit for the "normal" Stewards, they work on smaller shows with different problems than on 4- or 5-Star shows. From my long experience as a professional rider I have - may be - a different focus than other officials and have a good fair contact to riders and grooms and try to help those, who are not every weekend on the road. My experience from Tryon this year gives me a new overview about different problems in all disciplines and mentalities of involved persons. So i will try to help younger officials to get earlier more responsibility.

And I'm a fan of the Pony sport. I was on different EU-Championships as Coursedesigner-assistent (at least 2018 in Bishop Burton) and know the problems they have, after introducing the Children class, to develop and keep the level.

The welfare of the horse is paramount and I try to help with my work to keep this in mind to all stakeholders.
