

Update CES Maintenance 2022

CES Maintenance Changes for 2022:

There will be no more Groups - A or B, and all officials will follow the same unified process

CES Online Assessment:

- be taken by every Official, every year
- in one single place – Dashboard on FEI Campus
- modular architecture
  - General modules
  - Function specific modules
- A “not passed” result after two attempts, puts the function ON HOLD &...that’s NEW... It triggers a CES Interview assessment

CES Maintenance Course

- In-person format (IPMC) or virtual format (VMC)
- Practical Assessments with specific evaluations adapted to each discipline. These can be conducted through the
  - evaluation of case studies,
  - Interactive role plays,
  - E-judging or Field Practices.

but No CES Online Assessment will be taken at a Maintenance Course.

- A “not passed” result after two attempts, puts the function ON HOLD &...that’s NEW... It triggers a CES Interview assessment

When is the next CES Maintenance Course scheduled?

Last “passed” IPMC or Transfer-up in...	2022	2023	2024
2017 - 2018
2019
2020 - 2021 (with EVMPs)

CES Officiating Review

The Board is asked in its next meeting to approve following amendment:
Extension officiating requirements of FEI Competency-Based Evaluation

The Board approves an extension of timelines for Officials to fulfil their officiating requirements through the CES. The deadline, which was previously until 15 December 2020, is now extended to 15 December 2024.
